

ARRANGE FROLIC FOR STOCK MEN

Entertaining Features of Ogden Livestock Show Taken Up

Entertaining features for the second annual Ogden Livestock Show to be held January 6, 7 and 8 were discussed last evening at a meeting of the stock show's executive, entertainment and publicity committees, held at the Weber club. That these general entertainment plans include arrangement for an athletic carnival, for a dance and for a livestock men's banquet was announced by Dr. R. Kandler, chairman of the entertainment committee. Exact dates for the three events have not been set, though it is probable that the athletic events will be on January 6, the dance on January 7 and the banquet on the final evening of the stock show.

Reports submitted by President Charles H. Barton of the show and by L. F. Whitlock, general manager, showed that the prizes and awards for the show this year will be even more numerous than one year ago. General interest throughout the intermountain country in the stock show was reported, the number of inquiries for entry blanks being very large. The catalogue for the show, listing these awards, will be issued during this week.

Publicity plans for the show as presented by W. E. Zuppann, chairman of the publicity committee, were discussed and the general plan of handling this phase of the show was given approval by the executive committee. Another meeting of the livestock show committees will be held on Friday evening when more detailed arrangements will be discussed and final plans made for the entertainment features of the event.

Veteran Detective Now Convalescing

Robert Chambers, veteran Ogden detective who was accidentally injured in an automobile mishap some weeks ago, is reported to be recovering satisfactorily. He can now make his way around in a wheel chair. Captain Robert Burk, Sergeant A. H. Stephens and Detective W. A. Jones who called on him recently, report that he expects to fully recover within a few weeks.

OTHERS SEEKING BOARD POSITION

New Candidates for County School Place Come Forward

Considerable interest is being manifested in the election of a board member for the Weber county school board from District No. 4, according to B. A. Fowler, county school superintendent.

Villages of this district, including Parr West, Warren, West Warren, Plan City and Slaterville, have a compact among themselves that the towns will take turns in nominating candidates for the seat on the school board. This year, it is Warren's turn to make the selection. A. W. Marriott and Joseph Skeen have been nominated, the community having split, and each portion favoring one of the candidates, it is said.

T. R. Jones is the only candidate nominated thus far from District No. 2, embracing Hooper, Roy, West Weber, Kanabville and Taylor. A unique feature in his nomination is that the five men who nominated him are from the five respective towns in the district. It is unusual, according to Superintendent Fowler, for all the towns to agree upon the same candidate.

Tomorrow will mark the last day for entering of nominations, it is said. The election will be held Wednesday, December 1.

Interpreters Talk for Pair of Aliens

Two cases in which services of interpreters were required were heard before Judge D. R. Roberts of the city court this morning.

Tiny Tom, a Chinaman, charged with having opium in his possession, was the first. He pleaded guilty to the charge, but explained, through the interpreter, that he had not been smoking opium, but had been eating yenshee. He was sentenced to a fine of $30 or 30 days in the city jail. He paid.

Fred Montino, a Mexican, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness, through his interpreter. Montino was dressed picturesquely in a bizarre costume. He wore a sombrero with a flat crown, a spotless celluloid collar, silk shirt, a blue serge suit and a black broadcloth overcoat. The overcoat was cut with huge lapels and was thrown loosely over his wearer's shoulders.

He said he had been approached by an American at the depot. "Mexicano," his chance acquaintance said, "Would you care to buy from me a drink of whiskey?"

Montino "cared" and purchased a quart of whiskey for $14.50, he said. Then he became intoxicated and was arrested.

Judge Roberts imposed the usual penalty for first offenses of this sort, $50 fine or 50 days in jail. Montino paid his fine.

The former Empress Elizabeth of Austria used to smoke as many as fifty to sixty cigarettes a day.

DOBBIN'S MASTER HELD FOR SPEEDING; FORFEITS HIS BAIL

H. Gavois, 50 years old, a Greek baker, is the only "speeder" who has been arrested recently and has not been extended an invitation to a three-day house party as a guest of the city. Gavois failed to appear in court this morning and his bail of $5 was forfeited.

Judge D. R. Roberts said that the reason for not issuing a bench warrant and jailing Gavois on a speeding charge, was the fact that Gavois had done his fast driving in a horse and wagon.

Special Officer Samuel Stegan was the arresting officer in the case. The charge against Gavois was not "speeding" in a technical sense of the word, the language of the complaint charging Gavois with "fast driving with a horse and wagon."

Marine Corps Medals Ready for Service Men

The marine corps recruiting station at 182 South Main street, Salt Lake, is in receipt of the Victory medal, with clasps, bronze and silver stars, and the Maltese cross for all officers and men who served honorably in the marine corps between the 6th of April, 1917, and November 11, 1918.

Officers and men of the medical corps who served with marine organizations in France and who are not entitled to the battle clasp or star will be issued the Maltese cross upon submitting their application therefor. The Victory medal will be sent to the next of kin of all deceased marines who served honorably during the world war by the adjutant and inspector, Washington, D. C. direct. It will not be necessary that the application for the medal be made, inasmuch as the medal will be sent to the next of kin as shown by the official records at Washington.

It will be necessary for all persons to submit their discharge certificates or other evidence showing that they are entitled to the medal and that proper notation be placed thereon. Application may be made at the marine recruiting station in Ogden.

Neighbors Harvest Beets for Farmers

Fifty farmers and their teams turned out in the Plain City district yesterday to assist two farmers, Fred N. Wheeler and Daniel Knight, who owing to sickness have been unable to harvest their beet crops. During the day 200 tons of sugar beets were hauled to the factory by neighbors of the sick men who have expressed their appreciation of the generous assistance rendered.

Try to Locate Kin of Cowboy Dying Here

Through finger prints taken from the body of John Lafferty, Wyoming cowboy, who died at the Dee hospital Saturday, it is hoped the identity of the man's parents may be ascertained and that the body may be sent to them for burial. Nothing was known of the man's relatives when he died and although telegrams have been sent to many cities in the east, no clue has been found.

This morning Deputy Sheriff Dick Wootton took the finger prints from the body and through a system hopes to be successful in search for Lafferty's relatives. The man is believed to have been within the draft age during the war and as a result his finger prints should be on file with the army or at Fort Leavenworth, it is said. Deputy Wootton will send the finger print classification east to be checked with files held by the government authorities. If the man's army card is found, it will give full information which is being sought.

The body is being held at the Lar-kin parlors awaiting the results of the search for the relatives.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In the Standard-Examiner's account of a collision between a taxi-cab and a milk wagon yesterday, the article said the taxi was traveling down Twenty-eighth street hill. The driver informs the Standard-Examiner that he was traveling up the hill and should have had the right of way over the milk wagon. He says the milk wagon struck his vehicle. The Standard-Examiner's account was based upon the police report of the accident.

GASOLINE OUTPUT RECORD BROKEN IN SEPTEMBER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—All gasoline output records were broken during September, the bureau of mines announced Monday. Refineries produced a daily average of 15,000,000 gallons, making the output total for the first nine months of 1920 three and a half billion gallons as compared with 2,900,000,000 gallons during the same period in 1919.

Consumption and exports continued high, however, the bureau said, so that while storage tanks on Sept. 30 held 293,000,000 gallons, the amount on hand then was actually less than that on hand August 30. Exports for the first nine months of 1920 amounted to $95,429,992, almost 200,000,000 gallons more than was sent abroad during the same period in 1919.

Drainage Costs Paid by One Year's Crop

The returns from the sale of beets grown this year on reclaimed lands near Corinne, will amount to just about as much as was spent in draining the district. The information was brought to Ogden today by Ed. Ryan, who was interested in the drainage project, and he bases his statement on figures which he said were announced by Roy Forsgren, field superintendent of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company. According to Forsgren's figures the reclaimed land produced 28,000 tons of $12 a ton. Ryan says that the results achieved from drainage at Corinne should stimulate interest in drainage in Weber county.
